

Dr. Gary Bradt Speaker Intro

Gary Bradt (rhymes with “Hot”)

Gary Bradt is a clinical psychologist and business owner. He has over 30 years of experience helping organizations adapt to change faster and better. His insights are informed by science, shaped by experience, and delivered with heart. Gary started his speaking career after his friend and colleague Spencer Johnson tapped him to be the leading speaker on Johnson’s phenomenal bestseller Who Moved My Cheese? For the next four years, Gary gave over 100 keynotes on the book for corporations and organizations all over the globe. Since then, Gary has gone on to write three books of his own on change and leadership and continues to speak, write and consult on the topic. His clients have included the likes of Coca-Cola, IBM, FedEx, eBay, American Express, Marriott and NASA, to name a few. And today, he is here to share his thoughts with us. Would you please welcome Dr. Gary Bradt.
